CELEBRATING CRAFTSMANSHIP:

FRANK HORN, ADVANCED ASSOCIATE, PROD 5

At DENSO, we are all craftsmen. Sharing our personal passions and what we do for fun is another way to celebrate our unique contributions.

About 16 years ago, Frank Horn's relative asked him if he could build some sort of step stool for a young child to reach the faucet of a bathroom sink. He instantly found a new personal hobby... woodworking!

"My mind just never stops," says Frank, "I can picture things in my mind and just make them." Frank said he doesn't draw up plans, he doesn't make a pattern, he just begins...

Frank's skill as a woodworker has only improved with time and he now plans on making a small greenhouse with a rain collection system with a place to raise chickens.
