6. FILE STRUCTURE

The DENSO typeface is delivered in a zipped folder with the following content and structure.

7. DENSO OFFICE (FOR MS OFFICE ONLY)

DENSO Office & DENSO Sans Office designed for the Microsoft Office applications

The DENSO Office typeface is style linked to work with shortcuts in Microsoft Office. Microsoft Office applications like Word use shortcuts for switching between the different weights of a typeface, e.g. make the type bold = choosing the bold weight by pressing 'crtl+B'(Windows) /'cmd+B'(Mac OS) and the italic weight 'crtl+I'(Windows) /'cmd+I'(Mac OS). Style-linking can include 4 weights, typically, but not limited to: Regular, Regular Italic, Bold and Bold Italic. This is why DENSO Office typeface, in some versions of Microsoft Office, appears as 'DENSO Office' (contains both Regular and Bold) and 'DENSO Office Light' or 'DENSO Office Black' in the font menu. This is not an error, but simply the way Microsoft Office handles typefaces - by collapsing only linked weights into one.
