Will offer high-quality automotive after-sales services in emerging economies

KARIYA (Japan) Toyota Tsusho Corporation, Aisin Seiki Co., Ltd., and DENSO Corporation will jointly open a wholly owned store in Cambodia that will offer automotive repair and maintenance services, as well as sell related automotive components. The wholly owned store will start operations in February 2014 with the brand name of “PIT & GO.” The company name for the wholly owned store will be PIT&GO Automotive Service (Cambodia) Co., Ltd.

As the motor vehicle demand in emerging markets, like Asia and Africa are rapidly increasing, there is a growing need for repair, maintenance and other after-sales services for new and used vehicles. To quickly provide high-quality automotive components and services and improve customer satisfaction, Toyota Tsusho, Aisin and DENSO will jointly open a wholly owned store in Cambodia.

To expand its regional service network, PIT&GO will identify qualified stores and designate them as PIT&GO-certified, as well as help them improve their repair skills and store management.
